

WORTHY OF PRESERVATION?

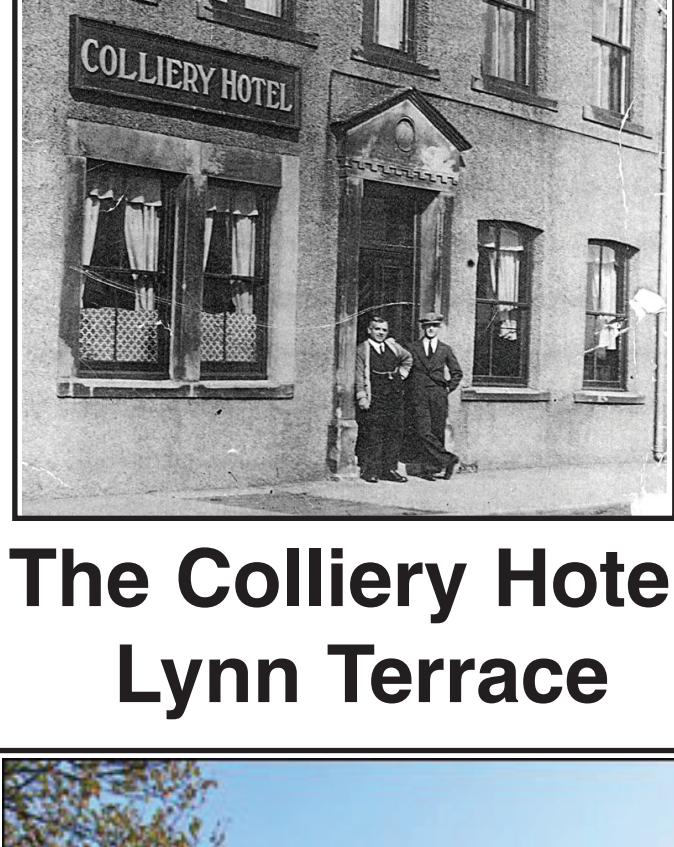

—
—

19th/early 20th C former mining

The image consists of three separate photographs arranged horizontally. The first photograph on the left shows a close-up of a brick building's facade, featuring a decorative cornice and several arched windows. The second photograph in the center shows a tall, cylindrical stone chimney rising from a low stone wall, with trees visible in the background. The third photograph on the right is a close-up of a large, dark-colored iron bridge arch, showing its intricate truss structure against a bright sky.

A photograph showing a close-up view of a traditional tiled roof under a cloudy sky.

A photograph of a brick building with a green sign that reads "PARISH ROOMS and HERITAGE CENTRE". The building has a tiled roof and some plants in front.

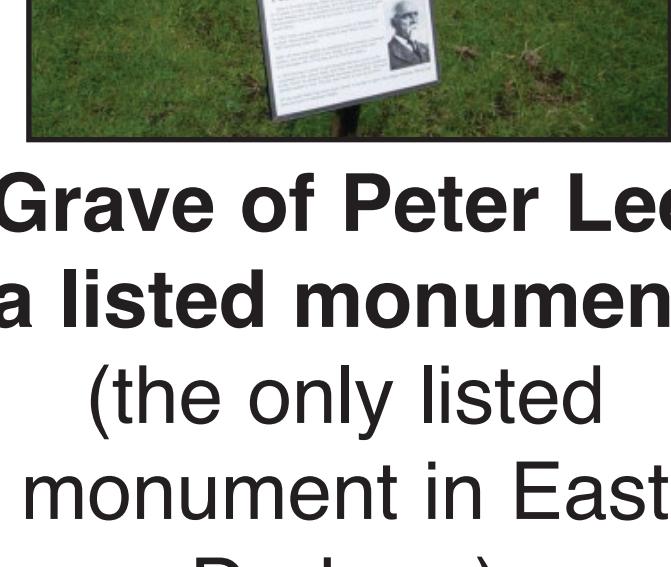

A close-up photograph of a brick wall featuring several inscriptions in raised lettering on the bricks. The visible text includes "J.S. G.S. H.A.S.", "M.S. J.J.P. A. T. B.", and "E.D.". The wall shows signs of age and wear.

The image consists of two parts. On the left, a close-up of a grey stone plaque set into a green lawn. The plaque has the words "TAUTRIU IN ALL THINGS" engraved on it. On the right, a portrait of a man with a white beard and mustache, wearing a dark suit and white shirt, is framed in an ornate oval. The portrait is set against a dark red background.

containing a number of bricks indented with individual initials who were probably donors to past renovations

Durham)

A close-up photograph of a brick wall. A window with a white frame is visible on the right side. A vertical metal pipe runs down the center of the wall. The bricks are reddish-brown with some darker grouting.

A close-up photograph of a dark, textured surface, likely a brick or stone wall, showing horizontal and vertical patterns.

coal under the limestone